CITIZENSHIP BY INVESTMENT

Citizenship by investment is the process of obtaining a second citizenship by investing in the economy of the host country. Citizenship by investment programs legally confer citizenship status faster than traditional immigration processes and do so without requiring investors to put their lives on hold.

While residence permits are granted to investors and wealthy individuals in most countries, very few countries have clear provisions in their laws for granting citizenship for economic considerations and without residence requirements.

CitizenMatch consists of world-wide market consultants paving the way for high net-worth individuals to acquire second citizenship and gain knowledge about residency options.

Citizenship by investment programs offer you the opportunity to legally acquire a new citizenship quickly and simply, without any disruptions to your life.

RESIDENCY BY INVESTMENT

Residency by investment is the process of obtaining a permanent residency (PR) card of another country by investing in the economy of that country. PR status is then conferred at an accelerated rate compared to traditional applications.

A change of residence to a suitable country is an increasingly important aspect of international planning for private clients.

While most of our residency programs can eventually lead to citizenship, some programs make this possible immediately or after a very short procedure.

As a permanent resident, you enjoy most of the benefits a citizen receives including the right to stay in the country without limitations and the right to do business or buy property. Take a look at the residency programs to see which of them match your needs.
